

MISSION AVIATION FELLOWSHIP

MAF/TRACK

An individually tailored pathway for preparing to be "mission-ready".

With a fleet of 135 aircraft in over 30 countries, Mission Aviation Fellowship flies in some of the most challenging places in the world to bring hope to people in places of deepest human need. But to keep the MAF planes flying we need pilots, engineers and managers.

We know that getting to the mission field may seem like a formidable process. We also recognise that you—like every person who applies to join MAF—come with your own life experiences, levels of training and aviation knowledge.

Serving with MAF means being on the front line of sharing the good news of God's Kingdom to the isolated communities we serve.

Due to the variety of situations you might work in, your technical skills will have to be of the highest standard.

But more than this, you will need to be able to combine strong decision-making and relationship-building skills with a positive approach to getting the job done.

In response to this, we have developed MAFTRACK, an individually tailored pathway towards a potential career with MAF.

If you are passionate about the work of MAF and would like to pursue the possibility of joining our worldwide ministry, MAFTRACK might be for you!

Applying for MAFTRACK will help us:

- * Work with you to decide together what training and personal development will best prepare you to work with MAF.
- * Stand alongside you to encourage, inspire and assist in your journey towards MAF! This includes putting a plan in place to help you stay focused and working towards your goal.
- * Partner with other organisations, including your local church, to purposely develop the practical skills you need.

MAF/TRACK

MAFTRACK will meet you where you are, and—depending on what you need to accomplish to be “mission ready”—may include a combination of:

- * Aviation & technical training
- * Cross cultural & missions exposure
- * Spiritual development
- * Personal growth

If you would like to be a pilot—or are already on your way to becoming one—we can support you through the required steps.

If you are interested in engineering, we will work with you to make sure you have the theoretical knowledge and practical experience necessary to become either an authorised Aircraft Maintenance Engineer (AME) or a CAA approved Licensed Aircraft Maintenance Engineer (LAME).

If you have a background in management, we will assist you towards working with MAF in one of our overseas programmes—where your planning, organisational and leadership skills are highly needed.

If you are passionate about using your skills for His Kingdom—and ready to put a plan in place to achieve your goals—contact us about applying for MAFTRACK.

*Please note that applying for MAFTRACK does not guarantee that you will one day work for MAF.

Sharing God's love through aviation and technology

MISSION AVIATION FELLOWSHIP (MAF) is a faith-based, not-for-profit, relief and development organisation. We fly over 130 light aircraft in 30 developing nations to help overcome the daunting challenges caused by isolation. MAF reaches places of deepest human need, where flying is not a luxury, but a lifeline.

Across the world, multitudes of people depend on basic services which can only be supplied by using light aircraft.

MAF flies over jungles, mountains, swamps and deserts to bring thousands of men, women and children medical care, emergency relief, long-term development and Christian hope.

In addition to personnel, MAF planes transport the resources and materials that people in remote communities need to help build better lives for themselves and their families.

MAF multiplies the effectiveness of over 1,400 partner organisations. Each year MAF provides a vital "link in the chain" for more than 1400 aid and development agencies, missions and churches, enabling them to quickly and effectively put their resources to use where they will make the most difference.
